

Dave Ley

Tuesday, 25 January 2005

Last Updated Tuesday, 25 January 2005

Dave is a 1st year graduate student in the Faculty of Information Studies' Master of Information Studies program (MIS). Dave has a Bachelor of Computer Science from Dalhousie University. Prior to coming to the University of Toronto, he worked as a software programmer for several years. Most recently, he spent six months in the Republic of Ghana (West Africa), helping the justice system in that country build a database to improve the collection of judicial statistics. Dave is responsible for managing the website for the PIPEDA project.